Because of our significant backlog, we have given priority to processing only the main investigative file(s). If you want the references, you must submit a separate request for them in writing, and they will be reviewed at a later date, as time and resources permit.

MOS TECHNOLOGY

On May 23, 1978 [redacted] Administrative Assistant to the Director of Sales and Administration, MOS Technology, Incorporated (Inc.), Valley Forge Corporation Center, 950 Rittenhouse Road, Norristown, Pennsylvania (Pa.) 19401, furnished the following information to Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation:

b6
b7C

The August 1975 Preliminary Data Sheet (Block Diagram) pertaining to the MCS 6530 (Memory, I/O, Timer Relay) is an unclassified specifications sheet dealing with an electronics micro-miniature computer "CHIP" manufactured by MOS Technology, Inc., commonly utilized in new computer systems. All additional up-dates of the Preliminary Data Sheet dealing with the "CHIP" in question are similarly unclassified and are widely distributed, both in the United States as well as overseas, in order to promote sales. MOS Technology, Inc. has no proprietary rights attached to these sheets.

The MCS 6530 computer "CHIP", developed in mid-1975, is designed to operate in conjunction with a micro-processor/computer family called KIM-1, currently being manufactured by Commodore, Inc., Palo Alto, California. MOS Technology, Inc. is a subsidiary company, manufacturing component parts for Commodore, Inc., who in turn market the KIM-1 computer system.

Unlike similar computer "CHIPS", the MCS 6530 is not a static "CHIP" but can be programmed to fit the particular needs of the requesting buyer. Both the MCS 6530 "CHIP" and the KIM-1 computer system are commercially available for both domestic and foreign sales.

[redacted] was not aware of any sales negotiations presently being conducted [redacted]

Delay has been encountered due to Philadelphia's established source at company initially being sick, and now hospitalized for an indeterminate amount of time.

Due to sensitive nature of case and peculiar contact arrangements at the company, it is felt best to work through established contact or someone he designates.

Philadelphia hopes to promptly resolve this matter after which results of contact will be furnished the Bureau.
